Cortney Loui

Helping over-achieving and hard-on-themselves Christian women embrace who God created them to be so they can confidently step into their next season of life with purpose, passion, and peace.

Christian life coach + Speaker + MBTI® consultant + God's beloved

Cortney Loui is a dynamic, compassionate Christian life coach and speaker who is passionate about helping over-achieving Christian women embrace who God created them to be so they can live with more passion, purpose, and peace. She equips women with insight into their God-gifted capacities and callings, practical strategies and mindset shifts, and a safe space to reflect and grow.

As CEO of Coffee Chats and Yoga Mats, she guides women to live authentically aligned with their faith amid real-life challenges. Cortney's 15+ years of expertise in personal development, coaching, and program coordination have transformed her from a self-critical overachiever to a joyful, self-compassionate Christian life coach, stay-at-home mom, and believer. She has touched hundreds through her coaching, teaching, writing, and speaking.

When Cortney speaks, audiences feel seen, heard, and valued. They get the boost they need to get to know themselves more deeply and start making changes immediately.

What it's like to work with me

Coaching with Cortney is all about incorporating what I'm doing into my daily life - becoming more aware and using the tools she's given me. She's like a personal cheerleader... I've learned so much about who I am and who I am right now. It's like a breath of fresh air!

Veronica, happy client

*I've learned to lean into my strengths, be a bit more "stretchy," and think outside the box of my personality tendencies. It's a fun and enlightening experience. Cortney is very knowledgeable and easy to talk to and she has great ideas! It's easy to tell that she really cares and wants to help.

Janna, happy client

*Overall, I understand myself better and have learned a lot about myself based on past decisions and how I need to proceed in the future. It's been encouraging to learn that I do know myself pretty well - and there's so much more to learn!

Allison, happy client
